

Name:

Hour:

... and the Wolf chewed up the children and spit out their bones ...
But those were Foreign Children and it really didn't matter."

1. Activating Prior Knowledge: This cartoon was published on October 1, 1941. What was the United States role in WWII during this time? What issues was it dealing with in both Europe and in Asia?
2. What is the message that is being portrayed by this cartoon?
3. Do you think this message was valid at the time? Why or why not?
4. What should be the United States role in the world today? Do we have a responsibility to insure peace around the world? Explain your answer clearly on the back.